YOUR WEEKLY TENDERS REVIEW

TIPS TO GET A GOVERNMENT TENDER

1. You need to always go through the bid documents carefully.
2. Always make sure your documents are completed in full.
3. A proper cost analysis needs to be done when calculating your bid prices. A bid calculated either too high or low will be considered unresponsive.
4. You need to inquire about the bid and get all the relevant information before completing the tender document.
5. If you were unsuccessful in the bidding process, feel free to ask about why you failed. With that information, you will learn from the mistakes made.
6. Meet all requirements within the specified time, in the event your bid is successful, honour it.
7. Do not offer any false information or misinterpretations in your bid documentation, and it is highly illegal and enforceable by law.
8. Make sure you deliver on quality services and products as this will improve your track record and right standing with the department and by extension, give a proper face to small businesses in general.

Are you a supplier and intend to do business with the government? Good news is, you do not have to physically go to government offices and be in long queues for hours to transact business.

More so, you do not need "connections" to get a government tender, as long as you have the required qualifications, you can go for IFMIS self-registration.

In order to position your entity to get tenders it is important to play by these rules:

Rule 1: Make sure your business is registered, either as a sole proprietorship, partnership, limited company or a cooperative.

Rule 2: Obtain a PIN and tax compliance exemption certificate for the business from the Kenya Revenue Authority (KRA). For more information about this you can visit the KRA website.

Rule 3: It is important to obtain requisite certifications from professional bodies and authorities. For instance, if you're physically disabled, you may need to obtain requisite certification from the National Council for Persons with Disability.

PREQUALIFICATION NOTICE FOR CONSULTANTS: WATER SECTOR TRUST FUND – PHASE IV

Submission Date / Deadline:	29 May 2020
Country:	Republic of Kenya
Reference:	BMZ201665124/ KFW502697

Background: International open Tender for Consultancy Services for Assistance in Implementing the Project (Phase IV) comprising Investments in Water Supply and Basic Sanitation Services for the poor Population living in urban and peri-urban Areas as well as Supporting Measures via Water Sector Trust Fund (WaterFund) in Kenya.

Financing Source: Federal Republic of Germany; Financial Cooperation through KfW Entwicklungsbank and Government of Kenya (GoK).

Project Executing Agency (PEA): Water Sector Trust Fund (WaterFund), CIC Plaza, Mara Road, Upper Hill, P.O. Box 49699, Nairobi, Kenya.

Requested Consulting Services:

Despite the fact that the water sector in the Republic of Kenya has significantly improved over the last years, the access of the urban population to safe and affordable drinking water sources (only slightly above 50 %) as well as to basic sanitation facilities (around 70 %) is still unacceptably low. It is expected, that these connection rates are even significantly lower for the low-income urban areas. Recent studies have shown, that more than 8 million people (representing around 20 % of the national population of the Republic of Kenya) in around 2,000 urban and peri-urban low-income areas suffer from insufficient and/or map-propriate water supply and sanitation services.

The project thus aims to provide affordable, economically viable and sustainable access to safe water supply and basic sanitation services to the urban poor and comprises investments as well as supporting measures via the Water Sector Trust Fund (WaterFund), which acts as a national financing institution and provides financial support to licensed water service providers (WSPs) on a need basis applying the "Call for Proposals" approach.

The project comprises three components:

- Urban Project Concept (UPC) comprising investments in extension of urban water supply and basic public sanitation
- Upscaling Basic Sanitation for the Urban Poor (UBSUP) comprising subsidized plot and household level sanitation including construction and rehabilitation of toilets and decentralized treatment facilities and
- Aid on Delivery (AoD) comprising investments in the extension of water and sanitation services within the service area of the WSPs via a results based approach.

In continuation of Phases I to III of the project the WaterFund now intends to engage a Consultant to ensure proper implementation of phase IV of the project and to assist in continuously improving processes and procedures with regard to cost-efficiency and good quality.

NATIONAL STRATEGIC CALLS FOR RESEARCH PROPOSALS

The National Research Fund (NRF) is a statutory body established by Science, Technology and Innovation Act No. 28 of 2013. The institution is domiciled under the Ministry of Education, State Department for University Education & Research. The Fund is mandated to facilitate research for the advancement of Science, Technology and Innovation in the country.

Based on the current situation in the country, NRF wishes to engage the Research Community to address the emerging trends brought about by Coronavirus (COVID-19) Pandemic, Invasion of desert locusts and Cancer. Subsequently, NRF presents a National strategic call for Research Proposals focusing on above three thematic areas as detailed below: -

1. COLLABORATIVE RESEARCH ON CORONA VIRUS DISEASE (COVID-19)

The recent outbreak of novel Coronavirus disease (COVID-19) which was reported in late 2019 has affected over 200 countries and was declared a pandemic by World Health Organization (WHO) in early March, 2020. This disease presents a global public health challenges given the exponential increase of infections and deaths together with unprecedented social and economic shocks worldwide; Kenya is not an exception.

The objective of this Call is therefore to provide an opportunity to Researchers to develop targeted rapid response mechanisms and novel interventions to contain this COVID-19 outbreak and address resulting community needs. In this regard, NRF invites research consortia from both Public and Private institutions to submit research proposals seeking to provide COVID-19 Pandemic Innovative solutions through early detection, prevention, management, supporting health systems or increasing scientific evidence to responses. This Call is one of the Kenya Government specific response to appropriate research partners to conduct feasible research and ensure rapid utilization of findings to inform the responses and policies for containment of the pandemic.

The proposals to be submitted must be timely, with rapid implementation to facilitate generation of early valuable outcomes. Successful application will be funded up to a maximum of (Ksh 20 Million) for a period of 1 year. Interested applicants can access application forms and the call guidelines at www.researchfund.go.ke. Submission of applications in the official form must be in both electronic and 3 hard copies (labelled - Collaborative Research on Covid-19).

Electronic applications should be submitted to kecovid19@researchfund.go.ke and copy to secretariat@researchfund.go.ke. See the deadline for the call below.

2. COLLABORATIVE INTERVENTIONS TO CONTROL DESERT LOCUSTS INVASION IN KENYA

Desert Locusts (Schistocerca gregaria) is a major agricultural pest in the Horn of Africa and has continuously threatened the livelihoods and food security for decades. These Locust upsurges and plagues cause massive crop losses and hundreds of millions of dollars in control efforts. The current locust invasion in the East Africa region is one of the most serious occurrences in decades. In Kenya, this invasion has been reported as the worst in over 70 years.

According to Food and Agriculture Organization (FAO), with the onset of long rains season in East Africa regions, it is projected that this could allow a dramatic increase in locust swarms. The current situation in East Africa remains alarming as an increasing number of new swarms are reported to be forming in Kenya, Ethiopia and Somalia. This is going to pose an unprecedented threat to food security and livelihoods as it coincides with the beginning of planting season. While a number of control interventions are ongoing, involving ground and aerial control sprays, the onset of rains will allow the new swarms to mature and continue laying eggs into the next generation.

The warning by Desert Locust Control Organization for Eastern Africa (DLCO-EA) indicate that, the swarms in East Africa may be more than 400 times bigger by June if successive generations are left unchecked. This will pose food insecurity to approximately more than 20 million people in Kenya, Ethiopia and Somalia. In Kenya, the locusts have caused significant damage in pastoral regions and fast spreading into food crops growing areas. The following Counties have already been infested by this pest: Mandera, Wajir, Samburu, Isiolo, Ganssa, Baringo, Turkana, Laikipia, Meru, Kitui, Embu, Machakos, Murang'a, Makueni and Kajicho.

Objective of the Call

In the region, the more urgent issue currently is focusing on locust control. The current control strategies are essentially curative, consisting of large-scale applications of broad-spectrum insecticides to infestations, which may not be sustainable and could be harmful to the environment. The objective of this Call therefore, is to invite research teams/experts to propose and develop short and long term innovative scientific interventions to combat the locust invasion in Kenya. Research teams from both public and private sectors are encouraged to propose collaborative innovative and transformative solutions that are environmentally sustainable, preventive management measures and surveillance tools to contain locusts. The proposed interventions must put in place practical management aspects that can be effectively implemented by devolved governments and other agencies in the infested regions.

Successful proposed interventions/solutions will be funded up to a maximum of (Ksh20 Million) for a period of one (1) to three (3) years. Interested applicants can access application forms and the call guidelines at www.researchfund.go.ke. Submission of applications in the official form must be in both electronic and 3 hard copies (labelled - Collaborative Interventions to Control Desert Locusts Invasion in Kenya).

Electronic applications should be submitted to locusts2020@researchfund.go.ke, and copy to nrfsecretariat@gmail.com. See the dead-line for the call below.

3. COLLABORATIVE RESEARCH ON CANCER IN KENYA

Cancer has become one of the leading public health problems in the country. It is a major cause of death accounting for about 7% of overall national mortality with close to 48,000 new cases and 33,000 deaths annually. This therefore requires established evidence obtained through high-quality research to adapt cancer control measures that are specific to the country's population.

NRF invites research consortium to submit multi-institutional and multi-disciplinary research concept notes seeking to address research questions on Cancer in Kenya in the following areas:

- Surveillance of cancer incidences, mortality, treatment outcomes
- Survival, Cancer risk factors and cancer prevention
- Cancer screening and/or early detection
- Cancer diagnosis
- Cancer palliative care management, service delivery

The concept notes should focus on population-sciences, clinical research or implementation science. This call is a specific response by the Government to Kenyan agencies to collaborate in cancer research. The objective of this call is to support collaborative Research to provide solutions to the cancer problem.

The call for collaborative research on cancer in Kenya shall be in two phases. Phase 1 will involve submission of concept notes leading to prequalification. Prequalified concept notes will proceed to full proposals in Phase 2 in September, 2020.

Interested applicants can access application forms, guidelines and other useful information for the grant application from at NRF website www.researchfund.go.ke. Submission of applications in the official form must be in both electronic and 3 hard copies (labelled Collaborative Research on Cancer in Kenya).
